Section One

AVERZION is a proven way to keep crawling insects out of homes or structures. Vertical surface areas surrounding the base of the home are treated with AVERZION's patent pending coating. The coating prevents some insects from climbing vertically up into a home or structure.

Section Two: Limited 1 yr Warranty

- We warrant that its coating will last up to one year. Once treated we specifically warrant that the coating will remain hard, durable and glasslike. Further, AVERZION's specially formulated coating may have a slight interaction with some paint products and weed killers, causing certain areas to discolor. The Sun will also cause some discolor in the form of yellowing.
- It is recommended that a light touch up coat be done on the coating every 6 months to a year to keep excess discoloration and cracking from happening. Just like other paint/coating products the UV rays WILL eventually break down and change the color of the surface. Again in order to minimize color change it is recommended a 'touch up' coat be applied every year.
- To ensure that AVERZION's coating continues to be effective, homeowners must keep the surface area relatively clean. It is recommended that the surface area be sprayed off with clean water twice a month. It is important to inspect the coated area after a heavy rain to ensure mud does not clump up onto service.

Section Three: Smell

The AVERZION coating has an odor that goes away in about 4-24 hours. During this time, homeowners should stay inside their homes with all doors and windows closed, or if the homeowner has a sensitivity to odors, the homeowner should stay away from the home for at least 12 hours. Sensitivity to odors may irritate the eyes, nose, throat, and lungs. In rare instances breathing the odor for too long can cause headaches, dizziness, and nausea.

Section Four Bubbling:

When the temperature and the humidity are high the surface area where AVERZION is placed may release moisture. During the curing process this moisture release may cause AVERZION to bubble slightly. This is normal and will stop happening once the AVERZION fully cures. Once the surface is fully cured simply rub off any bubbles and add a light top coat of AVERZION.
